

Internship with HUM:Global at the Faculty of Humanities, University of Copenhagen

HUM:Global, 2 September 2025

HUM:Global, based at the South Campus of the University of Copenhagen (UCPH), is seeking a globally oriented intern to join a dynamic team working within the field of global humanities.

HUM:Global, initiated by the Faculty of Humanities on the South Campus, started in January 2024 and currently has funding until December 2026. We are looking for a Copenhagen-based part-time intern, available to work during the Spring Semester 2026. The successful applicant will become part of a dynamic team of researchers that aim to extend the lifespan of the initiative beyond 2026.

HUM:Global is a cross-faculty initiative that maps, harnesses, and stimulates researchers, projects, networks (both with external global partners and internally at KU), and centers at the Faculty of Humanities to generate and bring to life their greatest and most daring ideas on global processes and challenges. HUM:Global is co-creating projects and frameworks at the Faculty of Humanities, which will substantially enhance our capacity to research and teach global subjects while increasing our visibility, standing and impact in wider society.

HUM:Global coordinates and collaborates on research-centered talks, lectures and cultural events as well as partnering on innovative research projects, providing research funding, and contributing to various networks. HUM:Global is led by a secretariat and a Professional Project Group (PPG) which consists of two academic staff from each of the faculty's six departments.

Tasks may include:

- Academic and creative communication: In collaboration with the secretariat, develop their own academic communication project, which incorporates one or several of the topics of HUM:Global
- Content Creation: Generate engaging content for HUM:Global's website, social media platforms, newsletters and annual report to highlight research projects, events, and achievements.
- Event Coordination: Assist in the planning, promotion, and execution of events, workshops, and seminars aimed at promoting interdisciplinary collaboration and knowledge sharing.
- Outreach and Partnerships: Identify potential collaborators, sponsors, and partners to expand HUM:Global's network and enhance its visibility.
- Public Relations: Cultivate relationships with media outlets, influencers, and relevant stakeholders to increase HUM:Global's presence in the public sphere.

- Community Engagement: Develop and execute initiatives to foster a sense of belonging and active participation within the HUM:Global community.
- Fundraising: Assist in developing funding strategies and writing funding applications.

We envisage that you:

- Have a demonstrated interest in global affairs and a basic understanding of global approaches, processes and challenges
- Have completed a bachelor's degree in the Humanities or Social Sciences
- Have a minimum of one year of MA studies remaining
- Have a very high level of written and oral English
- Have strong proven skills in written, visual and verbal communication, including in the use of online/ digital media
- Have solid administrative and/or organizational experience
- Are able to work equally well in a team and independently
- Are able to relate to a widely diverse range of people in an international setting

Terms and conditions:

To be considered for the position, you must be enrolled and active as a student at the University of Copenhagen.

Working hours will be a minimum of 15 hours per week, distributed across two-four weekdays, but with a need for flexibility depending on the concentration of workload.

The position is limited to the Spring Semester 2026 with a start latest 1 February 2026.

Application process /submission:

Applications should include a motivated letter, an updated CV, and evidence of current studies (enrolment certificate and grade transcript).

- Your application should be submitted as soon as possible, and no later than 3 October 2025
- Interviews will be conducted on a continuous basis, so we encourage you to submit your application as soon as it is ready.
- If you have any queries, please contact HUM:Global coordinator, Nicol Savinetti on globalhumanities@hum.ku.dk
